People have imagined ghosts since ancient times. They believe that<sup>(1)</sup> when our bodies die, our spirits live on it. Some spirits are happy in the spirit world. But others are restless. They miss their former human life, and keep coming back to the places where they were used to live.<sup>(2)</sup> Most ghosts are sad and quiet and make no trouble. But among others, especially the ghosts of murderers or criminals, are miserable.<sup>(3)</sup> They terrify any more human being who sees them.<sup>(4)</sup> In some parts of the world, people go to church on a certain day and pray for dead people to lie quietly in their graves. Unless these prayers are said, people never believe, the dead will rise up and try to revisit their former homes.<sup>(5)</sup>
