

以下、空所に適語を入れなさい。

22. (1) of the new dictionary decided to include a large number of illustrations and photographs, which they imagined would increase the possibility of its selling significantly well.※編集者、編纂者たち

23. I have no precise memory of what I thought I could actually accomplish after becoming a physician; I suppose that I simply had a vague sense of hoping to (2) to society in some way. ※寄与する、貢献する

24. You should (3) that it is your own opinion, not the opinion of anyone else, that will be truly important during the course of your life.※心に留める[3 語] b から始めること

25. It is not the expensiveness of a gift that will usually be most important to a (4) but, rather, the human feeling with which the gift has been given.※受取人

26. It was not the policies of the government that angered the public so much as the (5) manner in which they were carried out.※傲慢な

27. In those days, the museum had a lot of difficulties, which were largely due to lack of funds. It was mainly thanks to the support and (6) of a few wealthy people in the 1930s that art works could be bought and buildings improved.※寛大さ、心の広さ

28. The first use of forks (7) to roughly 2000 B.C., but it is only in the last three hundred years or so that forks have come into widespread use in the U.K.※さかのぼる[2 語]

29. It was not (8) acquiring financial gain that she applied for the newly created position but in the belief that the work would be personally fulfilling.※～するために[4 語]

30. The U.S. Department of State, unable to determine who it was that had leaked the (9) to the press, asked the FBI to conduct a thorough (10).

※機密情報[2 語] / 調査

[illegible]

お名前：