

以下、下線部を和訳しなさい。

22. Compilers of the new dictionary decided to include a large number of illustrations and photographs, which they imagined would increase the possibility of its selling significantly well.

23. I have no precise memory of what I thought I could actually accomplish after becoming a physician; I suppose that I simply had a vague sense of hoping to contribute to society in some way.

24. You should bear in mind that it is your own opinion, not the opinion of anyone else, that will be truly important during the course of your life.

25. It is not the expensiveness of a gift that will usually be most important to a recipient but, rather, the human feeling with which the gift has been given.

26. It was not the policies of the government that angered the public so much as the arrogant manner in which they were carried out.

27. In those days, the museum had a lot of difficulties, which were largely due to lack of funds. It was mainly thanks to the support and generosity of a few wealthy people in the 1930s that art works could be bought and buildings improved.

28. The first use of forks dates back to roughly 2000 B.C., but it is only in the last three hundred years or so that forks have come into widespread use in the U.K.

29. It was not with a view to acquiring financial gain that she applied for the newly created position but in the belief that the work would be personally fulfilling.

30. The U.S. Department of State, unable to determine who it was that had leaked the confidential information to the press, asked the FBI to conduct a thorough investigation.

[illegible]

お名前：